EssilorLuxottica

EssilorLuxottica SA, market capitalization of EUR 75 billion, founded in 2018 from the merger of Essilor International S.A. with Luxottica S.p.A., is active in the development, production and sale of eyeglass lenses for all types of visual disorders such as myopia, hypermetropia, presbyopia and stigmatism. The extensive product range includes, among other things, high-performance single vision and progressive lenses, self-tinting and mirrored lenses, high-quality refined and special glasses for computer work, car trips and various sports, sun protection glasses as well as special glasses for children's glasses. Behind the luxury brands like Ray-Ban, Armani and Prada is always the same manufacturer - Essilor Luxottica.

This year, we could attend in the 18th Dr. Kalliwoda Capital Markets Conference of Poland and also in the 12th Dr. Kalliwoda Capital Markets Conference of Spain, which took place both digitally. The digital conference by Kalliwoda Research was very professional and technically well organized and it must be said that everything else worked great. Dr. Kalliwoda has a very unique investor network, which he has selected as if they were perfectly suited for us. In addition, Dr. Kalliwoda Research very high-quality results and is characterized by the fact that Dr. Norbert Kalliwoda and his team are always available for our questions and comments.

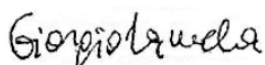

We have participated at Dr. Kalliwoda Capital Markets Conferences in

- Warsaw (digital)
- Madrid (digital) and
- Barcelona (digital)

For the future we wish Dr. Norbert Kalliwoda all the best and we look forward to a continued trusting cooperation and would be happy to recommend you to others, both for creating studies and for holding professional conferences.
